Colonel Knight to admit parole evidence in the Knight-Johnson case. The committee decided—

1. That the statute declaring that depositions in contested elections must be taken in twenty days after election is constitutional and hinding on the Secret and binding on the Senate, and fixes the mode of taking testimony in such cases; and that its denial to the parties of the benefits of any depositions not taken within that time deprives the committee of the right to extend the time or admit other testimony.

2. That a party waiving his privilege of secrecy may testify how he voted. BRIDLES, HARNESS, COLLARS, &c. The committee will meet to-day to hear the case on the testimony already in. General Dick Taylor, who represents cer tain English bondholders, is here, and will
